PROJECT THRESHOLD

PERSONNEL

Spent a short time stationed in Scotland. She and a group saw lights around a hill and went out to investigate. One of their team just disappeared and they never saw him again. Was listed as AWOL but no one ever found him. Milla was debriefed and started asking questions. She knew it was not a circumstance of running off. She was chewed out but she kept asking questions. She was visited by another officer who quizzed her down and then offered her a transfer. It's when she joined Project Threshold.

Her first team ran into a possible wendigo or similar entity along the Canadian border. It cut through them picking off her team one by one until Milla was the only one left. She managed to build a fire and put her back to a tree until help arrived the following morning. After she was assigned to Talise Randall's team.

Personal Traits: Milla doesn't have a lot of hobbies and she's very introverted when it comes to making friends. She trusts Talise and Kali and Bodi, but that's about it. She does like Big Band era music and vegetarian pizza.
